DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, (Si/Al = 5 to 50) and (Si/Al = 10 – 120) should further be defined since it is unclear to which these are referred.

Selections recited in claims 1, 4, and 6 should be recited in a proper Markush format.

“such as” recited in claim 6 is unacceptable in patent claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 1764

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Steigelmann et al (5,118,896).

Steigelmann discloses a process of alkylating an aromatic such as xylene(s) with an alkylating agents such as propylene in the presence of a zeolitic catalysts, preferably, stable Y and Beta under applicants' claimed condition of temperature, WHSV, and molar ratio of reactants (the abstract; col. 4, lines 40 thru col. 5, line 11; col. 6, lie 27-48; col. 7, lines 3-17).

Steigelmann appears not to disclose (1) the ratio of Si and Al of the zeolite, (2) that the products is formed in vapor phase which is condensed to separate out at a low temperature of 0 to 3 degree Celsius, and (3) that the catalyst is an acid zeolite catalyst (see the entire patent for details).

However, Steigelmann discloses that the ratio of Si and Al can vary depending on the structure (col. 4, lines 36-37).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Steigelmann process by selecting an appropriate ratio of Al/Si of the zeolite according to its structure since it is expected that using zeolites having any ratio of Al and Si would yield similar results.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Steigelmann process by selecting appropriate separation methods to separate the gaseous product such as condensation depending on the phase and physical properties of the feed

It is expected that the catalyst of Steigelmann is acidic since the Steigelmann's catalyst is also Beta and Y zeolite.
